

PDs' feel they have platform

The securing of two seats on Louth County council has provided the Progressive Democrats with a sound base to develop further, the annual constituency meeting of the party heard.

The view was offered by chairperson Rosemary Coyle, who is the P. R. O. for this year. Don Johnston was elected as the new chairman.

Other officers elected: Joint Treasurers, Helen Johnston and Kevin McGeough; secretary, Sean Crudden; Policy Development officer, Noeleen Thompson and National Council delegate, Bart O'Conghaile.

Colr. Jim Cousins thanked the members for their work over the past year. He and others also paid tribute to the work of out-going secretary Vera Dignam for her work for the party since its inception.

Colr Finian McCoy who had worked hard at the local elections.
