The Educo seminar is a must for all people. It shows you life in a new light and how positive dreams can be realized if a new simple approach be made. It's a very simple form of magic which if used by more people could only do good in return for their time spent in truly relaxing and knowing the brilliance, which is in the heart of everyone. It goes beyond words with its truth.

You Just Know When Something Is True

After attending the weekend seminar I just want to express how happy and thankful I am for having been able to be there, and more than anything, for having come across Tony Quinn's philosophy for life. It's absolutely wonderful to know and be able to accept that there is a life force inside which is meant to look after every aspect of our life and make it better than we could ever imagine with our minds. It's wonderful to know that there is absolutely no need to struggle or make effort, or to try to work things out with our mind. It will all be done for you, once you believe enough in your life force to let go!

Just from the way Tony talks about this, from the atmosphere at the seminar and from the results of the practical experiments we carried out during the seminar, there just is no doubt in my mind, there can't be any doubt about the truth and the reality of what this is all about. It feels more 'true' and 'right' than anything I have come across, and I can see now that this is what the world needs and is sorely lacking at the moment.

It gives me wonderful hope to know that by more people becoming aware of this approach to life, and actually putting it into practice, that our society and then the whole world can come into balance and harmony and that problems will disappear. Literally miracles can occur. It took me a while to accept the idea that just by being yourself and letting the energy flow out around you that this can do far, far more to remedy these problems - but I know now from seeing the improvements it has brought around me that it has the same capacity to do this on a global level. You just know when something is 'true'. So now I feel I can contribute something of real value to make the world a better place, and I certainly aim to encourage others to join in as well and create a better future, with tangible results. It's very exciting and special and I honestly feel privileged to have this knowledge. I'm very grateful to have been in the right place at the right time to find out about this. I know I am living a different, much happier and fulfilled life because of it. I hope others can as well.

With sincere thanks to Tony Quinn and all who are involved at the centre.
